CHRIS LANE

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Shire President Term
2017 - 2025

Councillor Term
2014 - 2017

MESSAGE FROM CHRIS

As I step down from my role on Council, I want to take a moment to reflect on what has been an absolute privilege and honour — serving the Shire of Three Springs community for the past 11 years.

It's been quite a journey. When I first joined council, I don't think I fully appreciated the scope of what we do — the number of decisions, the depth of the issues, and the dedication required to keep a small regional shire ticking along. Over the years, I've come to understand that local government is the true front line of community service. It's where decisions made around this very table can have a direct and lasting impact on the lives of our residents, our businesses, and our future generations.

I've had the privilege of working alongside some truly wonderful staff and exceptional councillors — people who genuinely care about this community and who always strive to make it better.

I've been asked many times, "Do you enjoy the role?" and my answer, as most of you know, is no!

But if you ask me, "Do you find it satisfying or socially fulfilling?" the answer is a definite yes!

Being a councillor isn't about enjoyment in the usual sense — it's demanding, it's challenging, it's constant, and yes, at times it can be downright frustrating. But it's also incredibly rewarding to see ideas grow into projects, and projects grow into real improvements that benefit our community.

To all the staff - a massive thank you. I especially want to acknowledge the CEOs I've had the privilege to work with over the years, Sylvia, Keith, and Krys. Each of you brought your own strengths, your professionalism, and your deep understanding of the complexities of local government. You've helped steer us through challenges, guided us to stay in the correct lane, and always reminded us that while process is important, people come first. Your leadership has made the role of councillor — and particularly President — that much easier and more effective.

My time as a councillor — and for the past eight years as Shire President — has been made infinitely more rewarding by the 12 councillors I've had the privilege of serving alongside during my time here. Each one of you has brought your own perspective, strengths, and a deep sense of care for this community. The teamwork, respect, and humour within this group have been remarkable. We might not always agree on every issue — and that's healthy — but we've always found a way to work through it constructively. That's something not every council can claim, and I've been proud to be part of one that's known for being collaborative, positive, and confident in its direction.

One of the things I know I'll miss most is the community feedback — both the encouraging words and the, shall we say, more “character-building” conversations that come with the job. Those chats in the street, over the counter, or at the footy have always reminded me how passionate people are about this town and how deeply they care about what happens here. I might even miss the occasional phone call that started with, “I’ve just got one quick question...” — though maybe not the ones that came right on dinner time! That connection, that sense of shared ownership, is what makes local government so special, and it’s something I’ll always value.

I have full confidence that those who continue will do so with the same passion and purpose. The challenges won’t go away — but neither will the sense of community that defines who we are. I know you’ll continue to build on the foundations we’ve laid together — striving always for a better, stronger, and healthier Three Springs.

On a more personal note, I want to thank my family. They’ve been patient through countless meetings, community events, and late nights where “I’ll just be an hour” somehow turned into three. Public service can take its toll on family life, and I’m incredibly grateful for their understanding and support through all of it.

I’m looking forward to spending more time with them — and maybe finally catching up on a few of those jobs I’ve been “too busy” to get to!

To everyone here — councillors past and present, staff, and community members — thank you for allowing me the opportunity to serve, to lead, and to contribute in some small way to the ongoing story of Three Springs.

It has been an honour, a challenge, and a privilege. And while I may be stepping away from the council chamber, my heart — and my hopes — remain right here with this community.

Thank you.

Yours Faithfully,

Chris Lane

Ever been tricked into a pyramid scheme?

Pyramid schemes can be hard to spot, but they all work in the same way. People are asked to pay money to join, with the promise of earning more by bringing in new members. At first it may look like an easy way to make money, but in reality only a few people at the very top ever benefit.

You may wonder if they are the same as multi-level marketing schemes. They're not. In legitimate multi-level marketing, people make money by selling real products or services, not just by recruiting others.

Pyramid schemes may try to look legitimate by offering products or services, but these are often overpriced, poor quality, or hard to sell. The real focus is always on recruitment. The promoters at the top take the money from those who join under them, while the majority of participants never see the rewards they were promised.

You may hear about a pyramid scheme from friends, family or neighbours and in seminars, home meetings and on social media. Sometimes it's an acquaintance you haven't heard from in a while reaching out with a so-called "business opportunity." Those in a pyramid scheme are often encouraged to contact everyone in their contacts and social media friendship lists to tap into potential new recruits. Sometimes they may not even realise they are involved in one of these dodgy schemes.

For a pyramid scheme to keep running, there must be a constant supply of new people willing to join. But eventually the pool of recruits dries up, the scheme collapses, and those lower down are left out of pocket.

Along the way, friendships, families and marriages can suffer when money is lost and trust is broken.

It's important to remember that pyramid schemes are not just risky, they are against the law. Taking part, or encouraging others to join, could result in prosecution. They are often sold as "get-rich-quick" opportunities, but instead they leave most people worse off.

If you're ever invited to join a group or business venture that asks for money up front, claims guaranteed income and focuses heavily on recruiting others, think twice. Pyramid schemes are never a safe way to make money, no matter how convincing the sales pitch might sound.

Consider whether the rewards you have been promised are dependent on product sales. If so, are the products of real value, sold at a reasonable price and something there is actually consumer demand for?

Don't let yourself be pressured into making quick decisions about money and always get independent financial advice before investing. If something sounds too good to be true, it usually is.

Anyone with information about a pyramid scheme is urged to contact Consumer Protection by email to consumer@lgirs.wa.gov.au or call 1300 30 40 54. More information on pyramid schemes is available on our website at www.consumerprotection.wa.gov.au

Pop-up Community Engagement Sessions

Wind Prospect is pleased to announce that pop-up community engagement sessions for the proposed Twin Hills Wind Farm have been scheduled as follows:

Monday 27 October 2025

12.30pm – 3pm

at Eneabba General Store

Tuesday 28 October 2025

9.30am – 12 noon

at Three Springs IGA

Members of our development team will be present at these sessions to provide information about the project, answer questions about its development, and receive feedback from local residents.

We welcome the opportunity to engage with the community on the proposed Twin Hills Wind Farm and invite all interested residents and project stakeholders to attend these sessions.

If you are unable to attend one of these sessions and would like more information about the project, to ask questions about its development, or provide feedback to the development team, we invite you to contact us via the phone number or email address below.

Community Sponsorship Fund

We are pleased to announce that we have awarded funding from the Project's Community Sponsorship Fund to the Shire of Three Springs. The Shire will use this funding to facilitate the Family Day on the Green event in Three Springs on 25 October 2025.

Project updates and upcoming activities

We plan to refer the Project to federal and state environmental regulatory bodies before the end of this year. These referrals will allow for potential environmental impacts from the Project and proposed mitigation measures to be assessed.

Following this, we plan to submit a Development Application for the Project to the Shire of Three Springs in 2026. The Development Application will allow for the Shire of Three Springs to assess the proposed development ahead of a Development Assessment Panel determining the Project.

Wind Prospect respectfully acknowledges the Yamatji people as the Traditional Custodians of the land on which the Twin Hills Wind Farm is proposed. We honour their ongoing connection to the land and waters, and we are committed to fostering respectful, collaborative relationships with Indigenous communities across all our projects.
