A note from the editor

Dear Reader,

As another edition of the Yakabout lands in your hands, it's exciting to see just how much is happening around our wonderful community. Whether it's community events, volunteering opportunities, or projects aimed at making Three Springs an even better place to live, there is something for everyone to get involved in.

There's plenty on the calendar over the coming weeks. Our Breaking the Silence-Elder Abuse Awareness Community Lunch is being held in July and is free for everyone to attend. This important event is an opportunity to come together as a community, enjoy a delicious lunch, and help raise awareness of an issue that affects many Australians. Tickets are essential, so be sure to jump online and secure your place. You'll find all the details in this edition.

Thanks to the generosity of the Police Golf Day, there is a free St John First Aid Course to our community. It's a fantastic opportunity to learn life-saving skills at no cost, and we encourage anyone interested to register.

While we're on the subject, the Police Golf Day is back again this year, teeing off on 11 July. Whether you're a seasoned golfer or just keen to enjoy a fun day out while supporting a great cause, be sure to check out the flyer for all the details.

As we head into another busy visitor season, the Three Springs Visitor Centre is looking for volunteers and would love to welcome some new faces. A season opener meeting will be held on Friday 10 July at 10.00 am at the Visitor Centre, and everyone is welcome. If you've ever wondered what happens behind the scenes, are passionate about our town, enjoy meeting new people, or simply want to see what it's all about, we encourage you to come along. There are no commitments, no pressure, and no expectations—just a friendly opportunity to connect with others and learn how you can help showcase everything that makes Three Springs special. Whether you can spare an hour a month or become a regular volunteer, every contribution makes a difference. Together, we can create an even more welcoming experience for visitors while building pride within our own community. With school holidays now here, we hope everyone has a safe, enjoyable, and well-deserved break. Whether you're travelling, spending time with family, or simply enjoying everything our town has to offer, please remember to look out for one another and stay safe.

Speaking of safety, it was a pleasure to recently visit the school alongside our local police officers to deliver a road safety presentation to students. We spoke about road safety in all its forms, from being safe pedestrians and cyclists to wearing seatbelts, staying alert around traffic, and making smart choices every time we use our roads. The students have since been busy designing road safety posters, with the winning designs set to be transformed into colourful street banners around town. We can't wait to see this project come to life and hope it serves as a lasting reminder that road safety is everyone's responsibility.

As always, thank you for continuing to support the Yakabout and everything that makes Three Springs such a welcoming, caring, and community-minded place to call home.

Warm regards,

Tayla Mutter

GET INVOLVED. MAKE A DIFFERENCE. BE PART OF OUR COMMUNITY.

Thank you for providing such a good facility - Showers were hot + clean and the area to camp in was fantastic.

We intended to stay one night but felt so welcome in the town we stayed 2. Had a nice meal at the pub + bought additional supplies.

Thank you very much

Teach Learn Grow Volunteers Visit the Shire

The Shire was pleased to welcome a group of volunteers from the Teach Learn Grow (TLG) Rural Program.

The volunteers visited the Shire Office to learn more about the role local government plays in supporting our community. During their visit, they met with staff, gained an insight into the wide range of services the Shire provides, and learned about the projects and initiatives that help make our community a great place to live.

Teach Learn Grow is a not-for-profit organisation that provides free one-on-one tutoring and mentoring to primary school students in rural and remote communities. Each volunteer spends a week working closely with local students, helping build their confidence, strengthen their learning, and inspire a positive attitude towards education.

The program also gives university student volunteers the opportunity to experience regional communities while making a meaningful difference in the lives of young people. We were delighted to share more about our community with the TLG volunteers and hope their time in Three Springs provides a memorable and rewarding experience. We thank them for the important work they do and wish them all the best during their stay.

THIS WEEK'S Horoscopes

Aries:

Determination to do things your way may need to be tempered, especially when it comes to something that needs to be put in place, which could include home or family matters. This could put any situations that generally involve pleasure under some sort of strain. Your patience can certainly be tested. Try to stay calm!

Taurus:

You may need to rethink something you thought you had sorted and felt quite settled about. This could be due to somebody working behind the scenes or having agreed in the past but now you find out otherwise. You can voice your displeasure but then leave matters to take their course. Focus on your own pleasures to early August.

Gemini:

Any involvement with friends or even a group of people socially or at work could have its challenges, especially when it comes to who should be taking responsibility. Finances could also come into the situation. The main thing is not to act impulsively, especially if you feel frustrated or angry. Waiting has its benefits at times.

Cancer:

If there are commitments you have undertaken in the past that you now realise is not something you wish to continue with long term, now would be the time to begin looking at alternatives. This does not mean becoming completely free of obligations but more considering what could more reasonable or manageable in the future.

Leo:

With Jupiter in your sign now to late July next year, you could be tempted to either be more generous of yourself or take on more than you can reasonably manage. Right now you could overlook underlying details that could generate difficulty or hold-ups. You may not have the wide ranging freedom of choice you could feel you do.

Virgo:

Venus, the planet of peace, balance and harmony moves into your sign this week where it will remain until 7th August. This will encourage you to look at what will provide and sense of enjoyment on a personal level. Highly likely is the fact that you feel the need to get more time to yourself. Only you can ensure this happens.

Libra:

Some significant events can take place involving other people. They will be determined things are done their way. This might be more about you gaining an insight into what drives them. Your abilities could be recognised but don't let this take you down a path that puts you under a lot of pressure for their benefit.

Scorpio:

The work that would be required which could take you down a certain path long term can become quite obvious. You might finally feel you are ready to take it on. Something may have changed that will allow you to do things on your terms to some degree. You can benefit from someone in a position to help you out or recommend you up to early August.

Sagittarius:

Some sudden happenings could occur involving other people. This could bring some surprises on the pleasurable side though you need to ensure this does not end up having obligations of some description attached. Any other person's intentions will be more focussed on pleasing them, so bear this in mind.

Capricorn:

Somebody may push to put certain things in place. Be mindful of how this could dramatically alter your regular patterns of behaviour in either a work or personal situation. Try to let things float and allow them to express their ideas without making any commitment on your part. Their thoughts or ideas could change later.

Aquarius:

It might be time to pay greater attention to your health and general well being, though you may not be that keen to focus in this direction. If not health, it may have more to do with usual routines in life. You can be determined, in your own mind, to do things your way but it might be necessary to lower the level to cope better.

Pisces:

You could begin to experience a turn around when it comes to any challenges you have had to deal with when it comes to other people over the last 18 months or so. This cycle is coming to an end and Venus, the planet of balance will begin to bring better opportunities to sort out details amicably from now to early August.
