Hi Three Springs Shire

3G Closure: Check if your Telstra GO has the latest software update and is configured to boost 4G signal

Many Telstra GO Repeaters operate on both 3G and 4G and will not be impacted when 3G closes from 28 October 2024. However, in some instances they may have been configured to only operate on 3G and hasn't been updated with the latest software. We encourage you to check your Telstra GO Repeater settings using a smartphone with the Cel-Fi WAVE app installed to see if its correctly configured to boost 4G signals and has the latest software update.

To ensure you are getting the best possible 4G experience when 3G closes on 28 October 2024, we've created a handy factsheet with instructions to update your Telstra Go repeater with the latest software, check setting on your device so it is boosting 4G coverage and to also check if your current antenna is compatible with the 4G network. Use the link to download the factsheet <https://qrco.de/bewdvA>

We encourage you to share with your community & stakeholders.

If you have any further questions or concerns, please reach out to telstranwvic@team.telstra.com

NEIGHBOURS HELPING NEIGHBOURS: THE STRENGTH OF OUR RURAL COMMUNITIES

One of the many great things about my job is that I get to travel throughout the beautiful Wheatbelt, Great Southern, and Southwest regions of WA. Some days, I spend six hours driving just to see someone who has reached out. No complaints here—the scenery is always stunning and ever-changing. We are truly lucky to live where we do.

Another heartwarming aspect of my work is witnessing firsthand how our great communities support and look out for each other. In every town I visit, I see this community spirit in action. Recently, I've sat down with several people I've been working with, listening as they share how their town has rallied around them, offering extra support without any prompting or second thoughts. Some examples of this kindness include dropping off cooked meals, regularly visiting or phoning, tending to gardens, and maintaining lawns—listening and really caring. Even when the person doesn't feel they need the help, they are still left with a sense of thankfulness and belonging. Both individuals and groups have no hesitation in helping—they just do. As one person told me, 'At the end of the day, we are neighbours, so we have to look out for each other.' In one town, the people being helped had recently moved there, and they said, 'If I had any doubts about why I moved here, they've definitely gone. This town and the people are just amazing.'

I often receive phone calls or am approached in person by someone asking me to reach out to a person they are concerned about—further proof that the community cares. Counselling has boundaries, which include not 'cold calling' someone when asked. Another agency or your GP can refer me to call, but this must be with the permission of the person being called. The initial call will be, 'I have been asked by... to call you.' The only time cold calling is acceptable is when I'm doing post-disaster recovery, where I'll conduct what is known as a 'welfare check.' These checks are done with the lead agency's knowledge and are not counselling, though sometimes they may become counselling.

When someone is struggling, mentally or otherwise, an offer of help—even if not needed—is appreciated by most. A person may, due to their high emotions, appear annoyed that you've offered help, but deep down, they've also appreciated your thoughtfulness and care. I know this because, when I work with these people, they say, 'It's nice to know people actually care all the same.'

The sense of belonging and being valued by those who care cannot be underestimated. Feeling valued gives hope, and hope is incredibly powerful. When I meet with those who have been supported, the positivity and hope they feel about getting through their struggles become tangible. The idea behind a holistic approach to counselling is that the whole person is supported. Recovery is much harder when the person is also struggling with practical tasks like cooking, is financially burdened, or feels isolated and alone. Never underestimate how much dropping off a meal, taking time to call in or phone, or offering help with chores can positively impact someone's road to recovery—even though it's 'just what we do in the bush.'

Even with support, some people still struggle. If you are struggling or know someone who isn't themselves, please reach out. Be strong and ask for help, be strong and be that help. Call me at Rural Aid—I'm here to help. Call one of the other agencies you know. Tell your GP. Tell a friend. Ask, 'Are you OK?' Also, remember that when talking to me, your confidentiality is guaranteed and respected. Your trust in me is valued and respected. You do matter.

Andromeda Galaxy | October – December

Image credit: NASA/JPL-Caltech

Andromeda is in our galactic neighbourhood of local galaxies. It's 2.5 million light years away and yet it's the most distant object visible to the human eye.

With the weather warming up, now is a great time to get out under a dark sky and explore your Universe. Through winter, the orientation of Earth allows us to look into the centre of our own galaxy, but in summer, we look away from the centre, allowing us to search for other galaxies.

The Milky Way is part of a group of galaxies that are all linked together by the pull of gravity, called the Local Group. There are about 54 galaxies in our Local Group. These are mostly dwarf galaxies clustered around the 3 largest of Milky Way, Andromeda, and Triangulum.

November is the best time to see Andromeda. It's always thought to have been larger than our Milky Way galaxy. However, research published by the University of Western Australia node of the International Centre for Radio Astronomy Research (ICRAR) estimates that Andromeda is the same size as the Milky Way or perhaps even slightly smaller. Read the research for yourself here.

You will need a very dark sky with no moonlight and a clear view to the northern horizon to see Andromeda. Using a star chart or a free online tool like SkySafari AR or Stellarium will help you find Andromeda.

First, using a star chart or app, search for and locate the star called Mirach low on the northern horizon. Use this star and the pattern of fainter stars that are below and to the left of Mirach to try and locate Andromeda with the naked-eye.

When and where to look:

From 11pm, between 25th September – 6th October

From 10pm, between 24th October – 4th November

From 9pm, between 23rd November – 4th December

Look low on the northern horizon. Unfortunately, because it lies so far north, Andromeda will never rise more than 16° above the horizon making it very difficult to see from Perth.

For Telescopes and Binoculars

Andromeda looks like a small, faint, misty oval shaped object in medium sized telescopes.

Remember

To see this deep space object with the unaided eye, practice using averted vision to tease out the faint light. If you focus on a nearby star, it should make it easier to spot Andromeda out of the corner of your eye.

Three Springs Primary School

On the last day of term 3, all students attended a PBS Reward to the Greenough Wildlife Park. We travelled on a big coach bus that came down from Geraldton. The students thought this was a super treat. All students from K-6, Mrs Armstrong, Miss Maclean, Miss Brett, Miss Mallard, Mrs Moss, Miss Holender, Zach and Jamie-Lee left school at 9am. We drove straight through to the wildlife park with many students feeling a little car sick. On arrival we were greeted by the park owners who gave us instructions on what animals we were allowed to feed and touch. We moved into class groups and moved around the park looking at all the different animals. On the way home, we had a quick stop over in Mingenew to have a play at the park. Thank you to Zach and Jamie-Lee for accompanying us on the excursion. Your help was greatly appreciated. Also, a very big thank you to TSPS P&C for their generous payment of our bus!

Aussie of the Month- Maria Yaquet

Maria continuously models our school expectations through her dedication and remarkable efforts with everything she does. She consistently applies herself with enthusiasm and perseverance in all activities, including our Interhouse and Interschool Carnivals. Her kindness, caring nature and willingness to assist others highlight her exceptional characteristics for being a worthy Aussie of the Month recipient. Maria is a responsible and organised member of our class who consistently completes her homework and all school tasks. She consistently shows respect and appreciation for all teaching staff, setting a positive example for her peers. Congratulations Maria, on being named "Aussie of the Month".
